To achieve these goals, JKPeV has built synergies and networks at local, regional, national and European level through which we turn our ideas
into projects

We have implemented the last 10 years about 80 projects – long and short term and now we are running 15 national and international projects

The project “Manage the COVID crisis with Care, reasOn, Values, unlty, soliDarity” is a response to the global crisis that was triggered by the Corona pandemic and seemingly brought the world to a standstill. As part of this projects, a philosophical panel discussion on the topic of "attitude and how to maintain a positive attitude when facing a crisis" took place on April 22 from 8:30 to 10:00 p.m. in Dresden's cultural project space null7b. The discussion was led by philosopher Doreen Siegmund together with theater pedagogue and DJ Samuel Fink.

During the event, after a short welcome by the two hosts, the COVID project and the context of the debate 'LESSONS FROM THE CRISIS' were introduced with a short presentation. Afterwards the topic 'attitude' was explained philosophically.

The discussion focused on Stoic philosophers such as Marcus Aurelius, but also on German authors such as Günther Krass or Wolfgang Herrndorf and how they dealt with difficult times. After the philosophical analysis, it could be summarized that a true attitude is ethical, constantly lived, resilient, reflective, knowledge-based and stylistic.

Participants were very active in the roundtable and shared personal stories about their time during the Corona pandemic, what helped them through this difficult time, and what they would like to see in the future.
